In $1.3 million mortgage fraud

Financial advisors indicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal indictments returned in Norfolk, Va., and Jacksonville, Fla., accuse a group of financial consultants of selling $1.3 million in worthless mortgages to savings and loan associations in Ohio, New York and Texas.

The Justice Department said Monday the indictment in Jacksonville involves the sale of $675,000 in worthless mortgages to the Womens Federal Savings and Loan Association of Cleveland.

Two indictments by a grand jury in Norfolk stem from the sale of fraudulent mortgages to the Abilene Savings Association of Abilene, Texas, for $400,000, and to the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Utica, N.Y., for $275,000.

The indictments charged that financial consultant Nathan Cohen and five associates carried out the fraud scheme through the Bell Mortgage Corp. of Virginia.

The defendants carried out the alleged fraud with copies of mortgage documents which already had been sold by Bell, the indictments charge. Copies of these documents were delivered to the three savings and loan associations in the fraudulent sales, the indictments said.

Cohne, 37, of Lancaster, Pa., was financial adviser to the Bell Mortgage Corp. and president of Whitehall Associates, a Wilmington, Del. financial consulting firm.

The others named in all three indictments are:

—Robert Price, 33, of Wilmington, vice president of Whitehall.

—Andres Castro, 44, of Miami, president of Bell Mortgage.

—Raul Arango of Miami, vice president of Bell.

—James D. Pennington, 27, president of the Capital Planning Corp. of Jacksonville, Fla., which allegedly was involved in duplicating documents used in the scheme. The department said Pennington presently is in Costa Rica.

—S. Charles Graybeal, 32, vice president of Capital Planning, also said to be in Costa Rica.

The indictment dealing with the plot against the Utica bank also named Lyle Lathrop of Norfolk, a former employee of Bell's Virginia Beach office.

Diana Headley of Miami, Arango's sister and the office manager of Bell's Jacksonville office, also was indicted for the frauds against the Abilene and Cleveland banks.

The indictment dealing with the Cleveland bank scheme also named Frank Liebert, a Bell employee in Jacksonville, and Robert S. Pennington, an associate with the Capital Planning Corp. and a brother of James Pennington.

The indictment dealing with the fraud against the Cleveland bank charged nine defendants with conspiring to commit racketeering acts, two counts of wire fraud and five counts of interstate transportation of foreign securities.

The indictment based on the Abilene fraud charged the seven defendants with conspiracy to commit racketeering acts, racketeering, and one count each of mail fraud and wire fraud. Cohne, Price, Arango and Castro also were charged with interstate transportation of stolen property, Cohen, Price, Arango and Headley also were charged with receiving stolen property.

The indictment stemming from the Utica deal charged the seven defendants with conspiracy, mail fraud, wire fraud and interstate transportation of stolen property.

The charges carry the following maximum penalties: Conspiracy to commit racketeering acts, 20 years in prison and a $25,000 fine; committing racketeering acts, 20 years in prison and a $25,000 fine; mail fraud and wire fraud, 5 years in prison and a $1,000 fine each; interstate transportation of forged securities and receipt of stolen property, 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine each.

Public's business to be conducted in public eye

By MIKE FLYNN
Record-Herald Editor

A society based on freedom of the individual should and must be an open society. Only as citizens know about their government and how it operates can they fully understand it, appreciate it, and support it as taxpayers.

From America's earliest town meeting days to today's elective and representative government system, it has been important that taxpayers know everything possible about government operations and expenditures. Only well-informed citizens can make democracy work properly.

Under Ohio's new "sunshine" or open meetings law, which becomes effective Nov. 28, more public meetings than ever before in Ohio will be open to the public and the press. Under the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, the press is the representative of the people at such meetings. This is proper in encouraging more public interest and participation in our government.

In specific instances under the new "sunshine" law some meetings may be closed for specific discussion purposes only, but all final actions of public bodies must be decided in an open public meeting.

One of the key actions and decisions under the new law will be the determination by public bodies of when an executive session should be held and on what grounds.

Since the new law requires open meetings unless the subject matter is specifically excepted, it follows that before any public body can go into an executive session, a formal vote by a majority of the members of the public body at a regular or special session is required and citing the purpose of the executive session to insure it conforms with the law. This requirement also is in accord with general law.

Unfortunately in the past, some public bodies have used executive sessions as a cloak to hide deliberations on public matters, with the public not being informed of what was discussed.

The Record-Herald suggests that all Fayette County area residents follow its lead in requesting in writing that notice of regular and special meetings of public bodies be sent to them. Notice to the public and press must also be given of intent to hold a closed session.

Public bodies should be reminded of the penalty for violation of the law. Failure to follow the law can result in a common pleas court injunction ordering compliance. A member of a public body violating the injunction is subject to removal from office. Any action taken in a closed meeting is invalid.

We have seen on the national level how secretive acts can eat away at the very foundations of the democratic process. By passing the "sunshine bill" the Ohio legislature acted in a highly responsible manner to assure that in Ohio the public's business will be conducted in public.

The new law opens many more meetings to the public and the press than in the past. It is suggested for background purposes that the press may be included in executive sessions authorized by the new law for the ultimate benefit and enlightenment of the general public. This is already done in Washington C.H. and additional public benefit has resulted with no added problems.

Control board OKs PUCO study

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A $425,000 consultant's study to streamline the work of the Public Utilities Commission will continue uninterrupted, the State Controlling Board decided Monday.

The seven-member agency authorized the second phase of a contract with Touche & Ross, Inc., after being told it is needed to make the commission more efficient and cut the time lag for final determination of rate cases.

However, the vote was 4-3 with minority Republicans dissenting. Sen. Max H. Dennis, R-10 Wilmington, indicated he thinks the commission with its newly beefed up staff should be able to conduct its own research, instead of hiring outside help.

Commissioner Sally Bloomfield, one of the two Democrats on the three-member commission, defended the study, and said the agency's staff—despite increases—is too involved in some 57 pending rate increase cases to take time out to do the work the consultant firm already has half completed.

Mrs. Bloomfield said the commission has hired about 50 new employees since the start of this year, and that its budget of about $15 million represents an increase of about 75 per cent from the $8.7 million it received in the 1973-1975 biennium.

But she said the heavy influx of new rate cases had absorbed the staff while permitting little progress toward goals the commission has set to try to reduce time lag.

Eventually, she said, the agency wants to cut the average time for a final decision in a rate case from the present average of about 22 months down to 9 months.

In other action, the board put off until next month a decision on a request by the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency to enter into a contract for $85,500 for a statewide solid waste plan.

The delay was agreed to after some members, including Sen. Harry Mesheh, D-33 Youngstown, said they want to know if the proposed work by Stanley Consultants, Inc., Cleveland, would duplicate solid waste studies already under way or authorized.

Also delayed until the board's next meeting Dec. 8 was action on a request from the Ohio Organized Crime Prevention Council to enter into a contract, without competitive bidding, with a consultant for research at a cost of $1,975 a month.

Mesheh and other board members said the agency had operated almost entirely without legislative scrutiny since being created by executive order during the administration of former Gov. John J. Gilligan. Mesheh

20 homes burned in L.A. blazes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An ominous orange sky hung over the Los Angeles area today as fire fighters with their backs at the city's edge battled to keep the nation's biggest brush fire from spreading.

More than 20 homes on the northeast edge of the Los Angeles area were burned to the ground, with another 30 damaged. About 5,000 residents were evacuated as the blaze roared over 45,000 acres of the Angeles National Forest.

At least 70 fire fighters suffered smoke inhalation or minor burns, but no civilians were reported injured.

Almost no rain has fallen for six months in the area about 25 miles from downtown Los Angeles, and the flames were being fanned sporadically by hot, dry Santa Ana winds, which originate in the Mojave Desert east of here.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. declared a state emergency, and local officials sent a telegram to President Ford asking him to declare a federal disaster, which allows federal recovery assistance.

Smoke from the big fire rose to 10,000 feet and spread 200 miles out to sea, a weather satellite photograph showed. Health officials warned persons with respiratory diseases to stay inside as ashes rained down in a 55-mile area along the coast.

A second major fire was raging out of control only 20 miles to the east and had scorched 12,000 acres in the Mount Baldy winter recreation area. About 100 homes were evacuated in the foothill city of Claremont, plus 40 to 50 resort cabins in San Dimas Canyon along the fire's southwest frontier.

A Forest Service spokesman said the blazes "are probably going to stay out of control until we get a little help from the weather."

He added that the Angeles National Forest fire was nearly 50 per cent surrounded late Monday, but that forecasts of 60 mile-an-hour winds Tuesday night prevent any optimistic predictions for the fire.

Residents armed with water hoses guarded their homes as the Angeles Forest fire invaded. Police urged evacuation as the flames drew nearer, but George Mason stood on the roof of his Glendale home and waved his garden hose defiantly for three hours, sprinkling his house, his backyard and himself.

Mason, 61, watched as two houses on each side of his own burst into flames from the rain of hot sparks and crumbled into ashes.

"A fireman kept hollering to me to leave, but I decided hell no," Mason said. "I was going to stay there until I caught fire myself. If the guy next door had stayed, his home would still be standing."

THAT TIME OF THE YEAR — It surely is when you see Bill Duncan, city street department superintendent, and his crew putting up the Christmas decorations around town, the temperature drop down into the 30s and this white stuff falling from the sky on your head. Pictured is Ronnie Overstake adjusting one of the decorations in front of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association. Kenny Flacker and Lonnie Lindsay, also of the street department, assisted in the downtown decorating.

Sewer project bills on Council calendar

Proposed legislation concerning the city sewer project, sale of drug-related paraphernalia, and annexation of property top Washington C.H. City Council's agenda for Wednesday night. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the city office building.

Also to be discussed by Council are an ordinance authorizing the city manager to hire engineers Gale L. Helms and Associates, Inc., as needed, and a resolution authorizing formation of a citizens study committee.

Scheduled for presentation to City Council is the third reading of the ordinance authorizing the city manager to enter into an amended contract with C.F. Bird and R.J. Bull, Ltd., for the second step work on the proposed city sewer improvement.

The City Council members will also consider the final reading of an ordinance accepting the federal grant to fund second phase. If accepted, the federal grant would pay 75 per cent of the cost of the first and second phases of work.

Scheduled for presentation for the first time is an ordinance banning the sale of drug-related paraphernalia.

The proposed ordinance would deem possession of such paraphernalia for sale as a first-degree misdemeanor.

The definition contained in the ordinance states that "paraphernalia" means any instrument . . . designed for use, adapted for use or intended for use in ingesting, smoking, inhaling, administering or preparing any hallucinogen or narcotic drug as defined in Section of 3719 of the Ohio Revised Code.

The ordinance concerning annexation would accept the 24.7-acre tract of land owned by the West Ohio Conference of the United Methodist Church as part of the incorporated area of Washington C.H. The property is adjacent to the city industrial park.

After some debate at the last Council meeting over the designation of Helms and Associates as "city engineers," a former ordinance was withdrawn and then a new ordinance written. The proposed legislation would allow the city manager to call upon the private engineering firm at his discretion without labeling them as city engineers.

Mood rings proving big seller

CINCINNATI (AP)—The principle which helped give the world the timed release action of medications now has given birth to rings which can forecast a person's mood.

"It's the biggest thing since hula hoops," said one department store owner who is having a hard time keeping mood rings in stock.

"We get a shipment in and they're out in a few days," says another store official. "It has been a tremendous item."

The mood ring is keeping jewelry buyers fascinated with its reported ability to reflect the wearer's changing emotions.

The truth behind these "rings of truth"—as they are advertised—lies in microencapsulated liquid crystals that were developed at National Cash Register's capsular products laboratory in Dayton.

The principle is the same used in timed release aspirin, the digital desk thermometer and scratch and smell novelty paper.

The idea, says an NCR official, is that the tiny ring's stone change color depending on the wearer's mood. Presumably, personality traits trigger temperature changes and other biochemical impulses in the body.

"The ring will work unless your vibes are really bad," said the company official. "Then the ring will remain black and without color."

Prison guards walk off job in anger over riot leniency

NEW YORK (AP) — Angry guards staged a protest and won their own promises from city officials after rebellious inmates at Rikers Island city prison were given amnesty and pledges of improved conditions in return for the release of five hostages.

The nearly 1,200 inmates at the prison released the hostages unharmed Monday following a 17-hour uprising.

About 200 tired, unshaven guards, angered at what they saw as unwarranted leniency toward the inmates and fearful for their own future safety, promptly walked off the job after the truce.

"They've given them the damn jail!" shouted one disgruntled correction officer.

"They held our men hostage and they get off scot-free," complained another officer.

"Next, they'll give'em the keys," said still another.

JFK library site chosen

BOSTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy was a public man who loved the sea. For those reasons, and others, the John F. Kennedy Library and Museum will be built at the University of Massachusetts campus on Boston Harbor.

There had been plans to build the Kennedy Library and Museum near Harvard University, the late president's alma mater, but the objections of local residents scuttled those plans.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., told a news conference Monday the University of Massachusetts site was the unanimous choice of the Kennedy family and trustees of the library corporation.

"President Kennedy was very much a public man and a public figure, he said. "It is appropriate that the museum and archives that bear his name be housed in a public place."

He said the school's site on Boston Harbor was important to the family and the trustees in view of John F. Kennedy's close association with the sea during his lifetime. One requirement, he said, was the building be "as close to the water as possible."

The decision ended 12 years of squabbling and threatened legal action. Kennedy said the trustees abandoned the Cambridge, Mass., site near Harvard because "a small and vociferous group was prepared to entangle the corporation ad infinitum in the courts."

Soviet warship watched collision

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — A Soviet warship was within camera range when the aircraft carrier John F. Kennedy and the missile cruiser Belknap collided in the Mediterranean, a U.S. Navy source said today.

The Soviet vessel, a destroyer of the Kotlin class, may have photographed the collision last Saturday, the ensuing fire and the entire rescue operation, the source said.

"If I were there, I would have done the same myself," he added.

The Soviet warship was keeping tabs on a routine night flight exercise of a seven-ship task force from the U.S. 6th Fleet when the 1,047-foot carrier and the 547-foot cruiser collided about 70 miles east of Sicily.

Fifty-five of the Belknap's crew were swept overboard, but most of them were rescued. The Navy said the casualty toll was four dead, four missing and 25 injured. Ten of the injured had serious burns and were flown to the U.S. Army hospital in Landstuhl, West Germany, which has special facilities for treatment of burns.

The cruiser was badly damaged by explosions and fires that followed the collision. She was towed to Augusta, Sicily. The Kennedy was only slightly damaged and remained at sea.

Soviet and U.S. warships often shadow each other in the Mediterranean, and this time the Soviet destroyer was close enough for sailors in the American force to read its number. The U.S. Navy said it did not ask any help from the Soviet ship and none was offered.

The Navy said it would have no information concerning the cause of the collision until after completion of its investigation. But one of the injured sailors from the Belknap, Mack Leonard, 25, of Boston, Mass., said the cruiser was ordered to move from ahead of the carrier to astern of it and "about one minute before the collision we had a course change to avoid a worse disaster."

Terror campaign resumes in Spain

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Basque terrorists have resumed their assassination campaign after a month's lull during Generalissimo Francisco Franco's last illness.

Two men armed with submachine guns knocked Monday at the door of the mayor of the village of Oyarzun, 12 miles from San Sebastian, the Basque capital. They opened fire when the mayor, a 33-year-old widower named Antonio Echeverria, opened the door. The killers escaped in a waiting car, and the mayor died in a hospital.

Police said the gunmen were members of ETA, the underground movement fighting for independence for the three Basque provinces in northwest Spain. The getaway car was found abandoned in a nearby town, and the police closed the border between the Spanish and French Basque provinces.

It was the first political murder since Oct. 18, the day after the start of Franco's last illness, and the first in the reign of King Juan Carlos I, who was sworn in on Saturday.

Echeverria recently fired two village councilmen who joined a protest against the executions on Sept. 27 of five young terrorists, including two Basques. The executions set off a wave of protest at home and abroad against the Franco dictatorship, and ETA announced it would begin killing mayors in the Basque provinces unless they resigned.

ETA, the acronym for Basque Land and Liberty in the Basque language, launched an assassination campaign last March against the Franco police. The government responded with a law making the death penalty mandatory for anyone convicted of killing or maiming security officers.

The executions on Sept. 27 were the first since promulgation of the anti-terrorism decree, and since then a total of eight policemen have been killed, three in Madrid and five in the Basque country. The last was a member of the Civil Guard who was shot in the town of Zarauz on Oct. 18.

Political violence has resulted in the deaths of 27 policemen and 28 civilians since January 1973.

Maryland governor under indictment

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland Gov. Marvin Mandel, indicted with five others on federal mail fraud, racketeering and bribery charges, says he will remain in office as he attempts to prove his innocence.

"I will now have the opportunity to prove my innocence in a court of law, which I intend to pursue with every resource I have and to the fullest extent allowed," Mandel said after learning of the charges returned against him Monday by a federal grand jury after a 19-month investigation.

Mandel, a Democrat who succeeded

Republican Spiro T. Agnew as governor in 1969, was indicted with five long-time political friends and business associates.

According to the 24-count indictment, Mandel, 55, the first incumbent Maryland governor ever indicted, traded gubernatorial influence and decisions for money and business interests from the day he became governor to the present.

A statement issued by U.S. Attorney Jervis S. Finney said the central charge in the indictment is that Mandel sought favorable legislation for a now-defunct horse race track after the other men named in the indictment secretly purchased the track.

In return, the statement said, Mandel received secret financial interest in other business enterprises controlled by the men.

Indicted with Mandel on 20 counts each of mail fraud and one or more counts of racketeering were three of the governor's closest friends and political fund-raisers: W. Dale Hess, 45, former majority whip of the House of Delegates; businessman Harry W. Rodgers III, 48; Irvin Kovens, 57, a powerful behind-the-scenes man in state politics.

Also named in the mail fraud and racketeering counts were William A. Rodgers, brother of Harry Rodgers, and Ernest N. Cory Jr., a Laurel, Md., attorney.

Thirteen of the mail fraud counts involve the mailing of letters, four involve checks totaling $22,619.50 and three involve the mailing of transcripts of Mandel press conferences.

Mandel and Hess were also accused of falsifying their federal income tax returns. Bribery counts were filed against Mandel, Hess and the Rodgers brothers.

Finney would not comment on the indictment and said he did not know when the defendants would be arraigned. If convicted on all counts, Mandel could be sentenced to up to 140 years in prison.

Mandel, a member of the General Assembly since 1952, was elected governor by the legislature in 1969 when Agnew resigned to become vice president. He won election to the office in 1970 and 1974.

Stocks post broad gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, buoyed by hopes of fresh action to prevent a default by New York City, gained ground heavily today.

With glamors and blue chips leading the way, the Dow Jones industrial average climbed 6.30 to 851.94 in the first two hours of trading. Gainers outstripped losers by more than a 2 to 1 margin of the New York Stock Exchange.

The day's buying reflected hopes that New York State was close to imposing $200 million in fresh taxes on New York City as part of a plan to avoid a city default. Wall Street has been taking cues from city watchers that such a tax package may persuade Washington to give some form of aid to avert the crisis.

Zenith Radio, the Big Board volume leader, fell 3/8 to 24 1/2, including a 179,200-share block at 24 1/4.

The NYSE's composite stock index rose 0.34 to 47.81 by noon, while the American Exchange's market value index added 0.46 to 85.07.

Volume on the Big Board expanded to 7.73 million shares, from 5.67 million on Monday.

Among the gaining glamors and blue chips, Standard Oil of Indiana was up 1 3/8 to 41 1/8, Eastman Kodak a point to 107, IBM point to 223 1/4, and DuPont a point to 129 1/2.

Surinam independent

PARAMARIBO, Surinam (AP) — Thousands of cheering Surinamese greeted their country's first moments as an independent republic early today with a midnight flag-raising ceremony at Paramaribo's sports stadium.

Crown Princess Beatrix of The Netherlands and her husband, Prince Claus, were the guests of honor as the red and green flag of the new republic replaced the old Surinam and Dutch flags.

The program included folk rituals and music by a visiting police band from Barbados.

Ailing Premier Chou En-lai of China sent greetings to Premier Henck Arron and included Peking's recognition of the Surinamese government.

The Netherlands had ruled the colony on the northeastern coast of South America, formerly known as Dutch Guiana, since the British traded it in 1667 for what is now New York.

The country is rich in bauxite and other resources, but nearly a third of the 400,000 people have fled to The Netherlands because of racial conflict between those of African ancestry, the Creoles, and those whose forebears came from the Dutch East Indies and India.

On Kelleys Island in Lake Erie is the famous "inscription rock" on which some ancient race of men scratched crude pictures.

Leftist troops rebel in Portugal

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Leftist paratroopers occupied three air force bases early today in what appeared to be a concerted left-wing rebellion against moderate leaders of the armed forces.

Unconfirmed reports said militant leftists of a light artillery regiment stationed at Beirolas, in the Lisbon area, had begun handing out arms to civilian leftists.

An air force officer said paratroopers from the Tancos base, 35 miles up the Tagus river from Lisbon, occupied the Monte Real air base 60 miles north of the capital, the Montijo base just across the Tagus from Lisbon and the Monsanto base in Lisbon, which is the air force's regional headquarters and communication center.

The government radio said there had been no fighting at any of the bases.

Classroom calculators

Pocket calculators are a godsend for students in mathematics classes. As prices go down they are rapidly coming into vogue, not only at the college level but also in high schools. Educators foresee a time when even elementary school pupils will use them routinely.

This is not an unmixed blessing. The calculators make the drudgery of math easier, but they also pose a threat. Students may become so dependent on these instruments that they fail to learn how to think through math problems on their own - or forget what they did learn.

The National Advisory Committee on Mathematical Education is rightly concerned about this. For one thing, it says in a report, teachers generally are not prepared for universal use of calculators in classrooms. For another, textbooks do not take this into account.

The problem is not insignificant. As the report notes, "It is extremely difficult to convince students who have ready access to calculators that they must develop their abilities for mental calculation, using only pencil and paper." Using the calculator instead is too much of a temptation, and in consequence basic skills languish or are never developed.

The Advisory Committee sensibly does not recommend banning calculators from the classroom. Instead, it urges educators to act on the premise that "every American will soon use calculators as a basic tool."

It proposes introducing the "language" of calculators at lower grades so that students will know how to make the best use of these devices. At the same time, it wants teachers to insist on their students' learning traditional pencil-and-paper calculation. It is sound counsel. This is another illustration of the principle that man must learn to use mechanical tools without becoming subservient to them.

THESE DAYS... By John Chamberlain

What sustains the Israelis?

BEER SHEBA, THE NEGEV (KFS) — Archaeology, in Israel, is a national sport. It is pursued with avidity by professionals and amateurs alike.

No doubt it can be dull and plodding when you dig and dig and turn up nothing. But even as a by-product activity it can be wildly exciting if, when preparing the ground for channeling water from the Sea of Galilee to the Negev desert, you suddenly stick a spade into a Roman aqueduct that had followed the same course, or if, when plowing, you hit upon a perfectly preserved bronze head of an ancient emperor.

Archaeology can also be dangerous. Moshe Dayan, the architect of Israel's victories in two wars, lost an eye when serving the British in battle in 1941. But he almost lost his life when a hole he had been digging in pursuit of his hobby caved in on him, knocking him unconscious, breaking his ribs and injuring his spine. In spite of his injuries Dayan still thinks digging is only slightly less important to Israel than the military arts.

Naturally the social psychologists spend endless hours speculating upon the motives that have set Israelis to digging even to the point of personal peril. Every nation feels the need for a usable past, which is normally to be found in a literature. The Israelis have the Bible, in particular the first five books of the Old Testament. But so many conquerors have urged over Palestine — the Babylonians, the Romans, the Byzantines, the Arabs, the Crusaders, the Egyptian Mamelukes, the Turks and the British — to interrupt the continuity of Hebrew possession that the modern Israelis have a special need to prove their temples, fortresses and city walls had stood on the strongest sort of claim on the land.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 26

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)
Take a close look at factors which influence your decisions. Try to build a sturdier platform to insure a more successful assault on objectives. And do NOT lose faith in them.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)
If you're considering a new proposition, study carefully, regardless of who wishes to hurry things through. View offerings with an eye to the future.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
You grasp ideas easily, see benefits to be gained where others only note the obstacles. Use your instincts NOW — and go forward.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
Getting what you want — and quickly — may be day's main problem. The answer lies just around the corner. Don't expect it to be obvious, however. You'll have to dig deep.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Your public relations accented now, with special emphasis on responses to your efforts and presentation of ideas. Curb your innate aggressiveness. Win your way through tact and diplomacy.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Some detail you overlooked may upset the smooth tenor of your work. Pick up where most practical and go on. Crying over "spilt milk" is a waste of time.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Don't shirk responsibility. Accept its challenge. Especially now, when a person in authority has already become intrigued with your potentials.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
A step in the right direction can be accelerated later when footing is surer. If you do get a wrong start, switch tactics or change pace. You CAN make it!

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
An on-and-off day, but you should do well if you stress your innate competence and perseverance. In some matters you'll gain more by following unconventional methods.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Avoid the illogical and close your eyes to the dubious schemes of others — no matter how attractively they may be presented. Don't be blinded by your emotions.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Your own management of material resources now comes up for review and, perhaps, criticism. Keep things orderly and in balance. Verify all "information," if you'd stay ahead.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)
Look for the "loopholes" that trick needlessly; be alert to misrepresentation; sift carefully for truths. Once sure you are on the right track, go ahead confidently — and profitably.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a lively imagination and great sensitivity, and are more likely to choose one of the arts as a career than many others of your sign, who generally prefer the fields of business, finance or the law. In this connection, you could especially excel in music, sculpture, painting or literature, with the latter your best bet. You love sports, the outdoors and animals, especially dogs and horses, and may breed them as a hobby. Traits to curb: secretiveness and a tendency toward excessive gambling.

Assembly ponders new bingo rules

By TOM DIEMER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio voters have clarified the legality of charitable bingo, but that was the simple part.

Now the legislature must define legitimate charity and set up machinery to regulate bingo operations and that process is liable to add considerable confusion to an issue which on the surface appears relatively simple.

Four bingo bills have already been drafted and at least two of them suggest a wide variance in lawmakers' interpretation of the mandate from voters.

In approving an amendment to the state constitution by a 54 per cent margin, Ohioans said bingo, like the lottery, should be an exception to the constitutional ban against gambling.

Legislators wanted the clarification to eliminate "bingo for business" by professionals operating under cover of an existing exception, or loophole, in a 1974 law. That statutory provision removed criminal penalties while not expressly legalizing charitable gambling.

The effect was to open the door last winter for a brief spurt of casino-style gambling, particularly in the Akron area, and reports that charities were being shortchanged by bingo operators and others.

Rep. C. J. McLin, D-36 Dayton, sponsor of the approved amendment, has introduced an implementing bill defining charitable organizations as churches, fraternal lodges, veterans groups and volunteer fire departments.

The bill does not stipulate what percentage of profit must go to a charitable cause. Rather, it says that a maximum of 40 per cent can be used for operating expenses and at least another 40 per cent must go toward prize money.

By contrast, Atty. Gen. William J. Brown's strictly worded draft bill specifies that at least 1-3 of the profits must be used "exclusively for charitable purposes." Since most bingo games pay out a minimum of 60 per cent of their profits for prizes, that would leave about 6 per cent for operations, as compared to McLin's 40 per cent.

Brown would limit participation to charitable organizations eligible for a tax exemption under the Internal Revenue Service code (sub sec. 501 c-3).

The IRS provision would exclude fraternal lodges from the charitable group definition, although lodges could run games for an approved charity.

A key difference between Brown's plan and bills proposed by three legislators is pointed out by an assistant attorney general: "We're treating it civilly, while they're treating it criminally."

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Take guard against butt-in-in-law

DEAR ABBY: Can you stand one more mother-in-law letter? I hope so, because that's my problem. My mother-in-law lives quite close to me and is always popping in, which I don't mind because she never stays long. But when she gets home, she phones me, and here is a partial list of her comments and questions:

"Are you sure Albert (he's my husband) is feeling all right? He looked constipated to me."

"I think you are keeping your house too warm. The kids get overheated and might catch cold when they go outside."

"I noticed that your plants are dry. Aren't you watering them regularly?"

"I saw nationally advertised brand canned goods in your cupboard. Why don't you buy the off-brand products? They are just as good and much cheaper."

"Don't you think you should tell Johnny (my son) to turn down his stereo? I read that today's teenagers will be wearing hearing aids by the time they are 40 because they play their records so loud they're going deaf."

"Why do you let June (my 17-year-old daughter) wear so much makeup? She looks like a cheapie."

I've asked my husband to please tell his mother to quit trying to live my life. He says he's tried, but it's hopeless. Have YOU any suggestions? She has already given me ulcers.

ULCERS IN ST. LOUIS
DEAR ABBY: Learn to tune her out when she's reciting her list of comments, complaints, and questions. Throw in an occasional "Yes, Mother," and when she's finished, say, "Thank you. Now I've got to run." Then forget it. And remember, it's not what you eat that gives you ulcers—it's what's eating YOU.

DEAR ABBY: I am a lonely, retired widow, and I am dating a man of the same status.

On several occasions he has lost control of his temper and has broken a few things. Also, when he drinks too much, he becomes very loud and insulting. Then, too, he has purposely tried to make me jealous by being overly attentive to other women.

I love this man, but would I be taking a chance on marrying him?

NEEDS COMPANIONSHIP
DEAR ABBY: Yes. A big chance. Only you can decide whether his "companionship" would compensate for his faults. Me? I'd rather be sans companion.

DEAR ABBY: Because I am a faithful reader of your column, three members of my family have become card-carrying kidney donors.

We would now like to know to whom we should write for information about how to donate our eyes after death.

COLUMBUS, OHIO
DEAR COLUMBUS: Your local Lions Club can help you. So can any eye doctor. And three cheers for all three of you!

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 25, the 329th day of 1975. There are 36 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1783, the British evacuated New York, their last military position in the United States in the Revolutionary War.

On this date —

In 1758, in the French and Indian War, the British captured Fort Duquesne at what is now Pittsburgh, Pa.

In 1863, Union troops captured Missionary Ridge, ending the Civil War Battle of Lookout Mountain in Tennessee.

In 1920, station WTAU of College Station, Tex. broadcast the first play-by-play description of a football game — between the University of Texas and Texas A&M.

In 1957, it was disclosed that President Dwight Eisenhower had suffered a slight stroke.

In 1964, there was serious rioting in the South Vietnamese capital of Saigon.

In 1969, President Richard Nixon renounced use of germ warfare and pledged to destroy existing U.S. stockpiles of bacteriological weapons.

Ten years ago: President Joseph Kasavubu of the Congo was deposed in a bloodless military coup by Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu.

Five years ago: President Richard Nixon fired Walter Hickel as Secretary of the Interior.

One year ago: The third Secretary General of the United Nations, U Thant of Burma, died of cancer at the age of 65.

Today's birthdays: John Kennedy Jr. is 15. Composer Virgil Thompson is 79.

Thought for today: If you would reap praise, you must sow the seeds — gentle words and useful deeds — Benjamin Franklin, 1706-1790.

Bicentennial footnote: Two-hundred years ago today, the Continental Congress in Philadelphia formally declared British ships open to capture, as retaliation for British raids on American coastal towns.

Gen. Moses Cleaveland, agent for the Connecticut Company in 1796, led a party to the Ohio Firelands grant, a region east of the Cuyahoga and Tuscarawas Rivers, so called because Connecticut gave the half million acres to families whose homes had been

Traffic Court

A Fayette County man was fined $250 and court costs, sentenced to serve 30 days in jail and had his driver's license suspended one year for driving while intoxicated.

Washington C.H. Municipal Court Judge Robert L. Simpson suspended 20 days of the jail term for Terry L. Lowe, 20, Ohio 41-S, but also found Lowe guilty of reckless operation and fined him $100 and court costs on this charge during Monday afternoon's court proceedings. Lowe was stopped on Columbus Avenue and charged by Washington C.H. police Nov. 22 for committing the driving infractions.

Judge Simpson fined three other drivers for breaking traffic laws and accepted several bond forfeitures.

Deborah A. Goddlander, 28, Cincinnati, was fined $30 and court costs for speeding.

Joann L. Michowka, 18, Greenwich, was fined $25 and court costs for speeding.

John N. Farley Jr., 33, Cincinnati, was fined $15 and court costs for speeding.

The following are drivers who forfeited bond:

Bruce E. Stodgel, 26, Greenfield, $75, operating without authority.

Marie V. Blair, 53, Hillsboro, $60, speeding.

Better days ahead, economist says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Real income of the average American family should increase between $1,400 and $2,000 by 1980, leading to a significantly higher standard of living, says a Brookings Institution economist.

Real income means the money left after adjustment for inflation and measures the true buying-power of income.

The economist, Charles L. Schultze, said Monday his calculations assume a continuation of the historical rate of increase in the U.S. standard of living of 2 to 3 per cent a year since World War II.

"There is no reason to believe that over the next seven years that it will be in any major way off" the historical trend, said Schultze, who was President Lyndon B. Johnson's budget director.

By 1980, he said, Americans should be enjoying a standard of living 16 to 17 per cent higher than in 1973. Since living standards declined during the recession, that means a sharp speed-up in the next four years, he added in an interview.

Schultze said that even a pessimistic outlook for the economy should allow for an increase of $1,400 in real family income. Median family income was about $12,051 in 1973, meaning there were as many families making less than that figure as there were making more.

There is no way to predict how Americans will spend their additional money in 1980, Schultze said, but he added, "you can be sure it won't be concentrated on any one area."

Three court cases involving the possession of marijuana under the new law (Amended House Bill No. 300) which went into effect last Friday, were heard by Washington C.H. Municipal Court Judge Robert L. Simpson during Monday's court session. Judge Simpson also heard a case involving a bad check.

Ronald E. Dickinson, Columbus, was fined $50 and court costs and juror's fees when found guilty of possession of marijuana by Judge Simpson. Dickinson was arrested on the charge by Fayette County Sheriff's deputies June 12. Dickinson's attorney asked for a trial by jury, but on Sept. 5 withdrew the request, with Dickinson changing his plea from not guilty to no contest. Municipal Court employees explained that 12 of the persons chosen to serve on the jury could not be reached in time and appeared, so they had to be paid the standard $5 each.

Kristen B. Simmermon, 26, Jeffersonville, was fined $75 and court costs by Judge Simpson for possession of marijuana. Simmermon was stopped by Fayette County Sheriff's deputies Aug. 21 on Main Street in Jeffersonville for having loud mufflers when the marijuana was discovered. Judge Simpson accredited Simmermon with jail time served.

Norman L. Ferguson, 20, Bloomington, was fined $50 and court costs by Judge Simpson for possession of marijuana. Ferguson was found with the illegal substance by Washington C.H. police at Eyman Park Nov. 8.

Norman J. Hosie, 36, London, was fined $100 and court costs by Judge Simpson for passing a bad check valued at $10 at Buckeye Mart on Aug. 22. Judge Simpson suspended $50 of the fine and ruled Ms. Hosie make restitution on the check through the court.

Deputies check larceny reports

Two larcenies were reported by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department today.

A battery was stolen from a farm tractor belonging to Harley Mongold, 1409 Garringer-Edgefield Road, sometime between Friday and Monday while the farm vehicle was parked in a barn on Jenks Road, one-half mile north of the I-71 intersection. Sheriff's deputies are investigating the theft.

Money kept in a Bible at the Edith J. Fultz residence, Bloomington, totaling $15.60 was removed sometime between 8:15 a.m. and 9 a.m. Monday while Ms. Fultz was away from her home, deputies reported.

Ferguson says fair lost money

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson reported Monday that the 1975 Ohio State Fair spent $91,767 more than it raised.

Ferguson said the fair took in $2,924,763, but spent $3,016,530, to post a net loss.

By contrast, the 1974 state fair made a $49,588 profit. Receipts that year were $3,053,046, while expenditures ran $3,003,450.

The audit also showed that the Ohio Expositions Commission gave away 58,071 free one-day participant tickets and 7,045 free 12-day participant tickets.

In other audits released Monday: —The auditor ordered three organizations to pay a total of $3,302 in back utility bills to the City of Jackson in Jackson County.

The auditor said the city had no right to give free utility services to the Fraternal Order of Police, the Senior Citizens Organization or the local Army recruiting office.

—The auditor ordered the Columbiana County auditor, juvenile court, county clerk of courts, City of East Liverpool and East Liverpool Municipal Court to return a total of $6,100 to the county law library.

An audit of the library showed it refunded too much money to the county governmental units from 1971 to 1973.

Law libraries are funded by a percentage of criminal fines collected in the county. If the money is not used by the library, the library is obligated to refund up to 90 per cent of the amount left over.

Police seeking LSH escapee

DETROIT (AP) — Police continue a search for Jerome Stanley, 22, a convicted rapist who escaped from Lima State Hospital for the criminally insane in Ohio on Nov. 15, along with four others.

Police said Stanley, who was described as "extremely dangerous," abducted and raped a 22-year-old Flint woman in a Detroit motel Thursday.

Stanley also is wanted under an outstanding warrant in Detroit for the March 13 rape of a 35-year-old Redford Township woman, according to police.

Jeff Church announces activities

Mrs. Heber Flax entertained the Ester Circle of the Jeffersonville United Methodist Church, and Mrs. William Allen assisted in the hospitalities.

A Thanksgiving prayer from the Ideals magazine was given by Mrs. Marvin Stockwell. Each told how she will spend Thanksgiving Day. Reports were made by Miss Margaret Binagar, secretary, and Mrs. Ralph Stephenson, treasurer, and Mrs. I.L. Booco, flowers and cards chairman.

The bazaar scheduled for Dec. 3, from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m., featuring a noon smorgasbord at the church was announced.

The congregation was also extended an invitation to attend Thanksgiving services at the Jeffersonville Tabernacle for Wednesday evening.

On Nov. 30, Mr. Russell Ford will present illustrated slides with music at 7:30 p.m. in the Jeffersonville United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Russell Garringer presented a program concerning Thanksgiving, and read "What is Worship?" She stressed faith and communication. All repeated the Apostles Creed. The meeting was closed with a poem from the Ohio Farmer and prayer.

Refreshments were served to 10 members and one guest, Mrs. Leota McClaskie.

TURKEY THIS THANKSGIVING?

Many of you will be tempted to stuff that turkey today so you won't have to fool with it Thanksgiving morning - DON'T. The dressing does not become completely chilled through out when it is refrigerated inside the turkey cavity, thus we have a danger of spoilage. Do not combine the liquid and dry ingredients of the dressing and stuff the turkey cavity until you are ready to roast the bird.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture also warns strongly against roasting your turkey in the oven all night at a low temperature. This practice allows the bird to remain at a dangerous temperature for too many hours. Bacteria grow rapidly between 40 degrees - 120 degrees F. Keep your family safe. Allow time in the morning to cook your turkey at the regular temperature.

You'll need about 1/2 cup stuffing for each pound of ready to cook poultry. Fill the wishbone (neck) area lightly with stuffing. Fasten neck skin to back of bird with skewer. Stuff body cavity lightly. Tuck legs under bird, using skewers or string and shape wings akimbo-style - that is, bring wing tips onto back. Insert a meat thermometer in the inner thigh muscle. Do not touch bone.

Place poultry breast side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not add water and do not cover pan. If desired, brush skin with oil or melted fat. If poultry browns early in the roasting period, cover the breast and drumstick lightly with aluminum foil or moisten a thin cloth with fat and place it over the breast and legs to prevent overbrowning.

Or, if the turkey is not too heavy to handle, it can be roasted breast-down for the first half of roasting time. If not stuffed, I put a stick of butter inside the cavity to self baste the breast. Insert the thermometer after turkey is turned breast-side-up. This breast down method results in juicy white meat.

Test for doneness - At the half or two-thirds point of roasting, cut the string or skin to release the bird's legs. The meat is done when the temperature reaches 180 degrees to 185 degrees. Also check the stuffing temperature, this should be at least 165 degrees. A second way to test for doneness is to press the fleshy part of the drumstick with protected fingers. When done the meat will feel soft, the drumstick will move easily, and the leg joint will give readily.

Research has shown that the best roasting temperature to use for poultry is 325 degrees. The following table gives the approximate roasting time needed for thawed stuffed birds. Weight ready to cook - Approximate roasting time at 325 degrees

(pounds)	(hours)
6 to 8	3 to 3 1/2
8 to 12	3 1/2 to 4 1/2
12 to 16	4 1/2 to 5 1/2
16 to 20	5 1/2 to 6 1/2
20 to 24	6 1/2 to 7

Unstuffed turkeys require about 1/2 hour less roasting time.

Plan your schedule so that the turkey is out of the oven 20 to 30 minutes before serving. It's much easier to carve.

Do not leave stuffing inside the turkey. Bacteria, which causes food spoilage, "loves" warm cozy places. Immediately after the feast, put the turkey, gravy, dressing, etc. in shallow containers and refrigerate. Freeze immediately in one-meal portions the turkey you will not use within 3 days. TASTY TURKEY PLANOVERS

The following are recipes tested by the National Turkey Federation. If you'd like other suggestions for using turkey, call our office at 335-1150 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

HOT TURKEY SALAD

2 cups cubed cooked turkey
2 cups sliced celery
1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1/2 cup chopped toasted almonds
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons grated onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup grated cheddar cheese
1 cup crushed potato chips
Combine ingredients except cheese and potato chips and toss. Pile lightly into individual salad shells or custard cups. Sprinkle with grated cheese and potato chips. Bake at 450 degrees F. for 10 minutes. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

TURKEY BUFFET CASSEROLE

4 oz. medium-wide noodles (2 cups)
1 package frozen broccoli spears
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk

1 cup (1/4 lb.) grated process American cheese
2 cups cut-up cooked turkey
1-3 cup slivered, toasted almonds.

Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender, drain. Cook broccoli as label directs until just tender, drain, dice broccoli stems, but leave flowerets whole. Meanwhile in saucepan over low heat melt butter; stir in flour, salt, mustard, pepper and milk. Cook stirring constantly, until thick and smooth. Remove from heat and stir in cheese until melted in greased shallow casserole or 8 inch square baking dish, arrange noodles, broccoli stems and turkey; pour cheese sauce over all. Arrange broccoli flowerets on top pressing them lightly into sauce; sprinkle with almonds. Bake, uncovered, at 350 degrees F. for 15 minutes, or until bubbling hot. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

MR. AND MRS. DARRYL MOULDER

Marriage vows exchanged

Dianne Elaine Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Holland, of 619 S. Main St., was recently united in marriage to Darryl Leslie Moulder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Moulder of Erlanger, Ky.

The former church wedding was solemnized in the Erlanger Church of Christ of Erlanger, Ky., before an altar and arch entwined with white roses and leather leaf, flanked by two seven-branch candelabra and baskets of white pom-pom mums.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of white chiffon over satin, fashioned with lace at the high neckline and her full skirt fell to a long train trimmed with ruffled lace. Her veil of chiffon and lace fell softly from a headband edged with seed pearls and she carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and blue starfire.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Don Baker, minister of the Northridge Church of Christ of Circleville, and the Rev. Charles Carter, of Nicholson, Ky. where the groom had served as youth minister.

Mrs. Preston Bentley and Mrs. Debra Lynn Hyer, sisters of the bride were her matrons of honor and little Miss Lori Ann Bentley, niece of the bride, was flower girl. The bridesmaids, all classmates of the bride at The Cincinnati Bible College, were Mrs. Colleen Hedges of Florence, Ky.; Miss Cindy Lemons, Miss Mary Ann Reusch, Miss Chris Bream and Mrs. Jacalyn Jackson, of Cincinnati.

The attendants wore identical gowns of peach and pastel flowered voile trimmed with lace eyelet inserts at the empire waistlines and wide brimmed hats and carried baskets of dried flowers.

Steve Hedges of Florence, Ky. and Larry Taylor of Erlanger, Ky., served as best men.

Ushers seating the more than 350 guests were Paul Jackson of Cincinnati, Roger Bishop, Noblesville, Ind.; Preston Bentley of Washington c.H., Bill Hancock, Lexington, Ind., and Jeff Geiwer of Miamitown.

The brides' mother wore a formal length gown of turquoise blue polyester and the groom's mother chose a yellow formal length gown of polyester. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Preceding and during the ceremony a program of wedding selections was presented by soloists, Jeff Sheridan of Washington C.H., and Mrs. Marilee Monroe of South Shore, Ky., accompanied by Miss Marsha Carver, organist, of New Jersey.

Hostesses for the reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the wedding were Mrs. Cheryl Boys of Ontario, Canada, Mrs. Janet Bishop, Noblesville, Ind., Miss Peggy Turner, Independence, Ky. and Mrs. Bambi Baughn of Columbus. The bride's table was centered with a five tiered wedding cake in the center of which was a blue water fountain and topped with the traditional bride and groom.

Following their honeymoon at Cumberland Falls, Ky., the young couple is now residing in Quincy, Ky., where the groom is minister of the Quincy Church of Christ.

The new Mrs. Moulder is a graduate of the 1971 class of Washington High School and both she and her new husband are 1975 graduates of the Cincinnati Bible College, where she was valedictorian of her class.

Scenes from the world of professional wrestling

The first professional wrestling exhibition staged in Washington C.H. last weekend met with an excellent response from local residents. Sponsored by the Washington C.H. Jaycees, the program attracted a capacity crowd to the Middle School gymnasium. In addition to well-known wrestlers "Flying Fred" and "Wild Bull" Curry, the program featured the 1,500-pound pair of McGuire twins and women wrestlers. To add a little local flavor to the event, two Jaycees took over the arena during the intermission and gave their exhibition.

Klein sees Ford win

CINCINNATI (AP) — Herb Klein, who served as former President Nixon's press secretary, said Ronald Reagan poses a threat to the candidacy of President Gerald Ford but that Ford will win the Republican nomination. Klein, now a broadcast executive with Metromedia, Inc., said he feels Mr. Ford's decision to force New York State to "face up" to its fiscal responsibilities in New York City will be a plus in the long run for the President. Klein also said the public has not only lost confidence in the political but in the written and broadcast media as well. He said "strong media resistance" to further federal control of the media is needed. Klein said, "I'm very supportive of the President. He's made some early mistakes, but if he follows his instincts, he'll do well." But he said Mr. Ford "traveled too much to help strengthen the Republican party. That's important, but one man can't do it all."

Pre-application testing tentatively scheduled

Nursing school eyes more candidates

Pre-application testing for candidates wishing to be considered for entrance to the Fayette County Memorial Hospital's school of practical nursing will be administered in early December and again in January or February of 1976.

Mrs. Jean Coe, nursing school director, said all candidates are expected to take the examination as well as the pre-entrance test which will be administered in February or March, 1976. The pre-entrance test is given only once a year. Once testing is completed, no applicant can be considered until the following year.

Requirements for entrance include being a U.S. citizen or hold first papers toward naturalization; a high school graduate or its equivalent; be between the ages of 18 and 50; have the strength to meet the physical and mental demands of nursing; possess good moral character, and have a pleasing personality with the ability to meet and work with people of varying ages, races, creeds and religions.

It is recommended that the candidate's high school program include two years of mathematics (one year of algebra), two years of science and English composition.

The program is approved by the state, the Ohio Board of Nursing Education and Nurse Registration, and consists of approximately 700 hours of classroom work and 700 hours of clinical experience distributed throughout the four quarters of the program. Subjects included are anatomy and physiology, family and community health, nutrition and diet therapy, sociological and physiological aspects of nursing, and nursing principles and skills. Clinical experience is gained through work experience in the medical, surgical, pediatric and obstetrical areas of the hospital, with observation periods in surgery, recovery and emergency rooms, materials management and the dietary departments. Further understanding of community health, the abilities of the pre-school child, and the training of the disadvantaged child are gained through rotation to the Ohio Department of Public Health, a nursery school, the Fayette Progressive School.

County realtors elect Mustine as president

Charles W. (Bud) Mustine, 609 Charlotte Court, was elected president of the Fayette County Board of Realtors during the organization's regular monthly meeting held Monday in the Terrace Lounge.

Mustine, of the Mark and Mustine Real Estate firm, succeeds Robert Lewis.

Other officers elected were James Polk, of Polk Real Estate, vice president; Robert Green, of Bumgarner and Long Real Estate, secretary; and Joe White, of Mark and Mustine Real Estate, treasurer.

Paul Pennington, of Pennington Real Estate, was named as the broker director. Associate directors elected were Harold Gorman, of Mac Dews Real Estate, and Steve Lewis, of Lewis Real Estate.

During the meeting conducted by Lewis, plans for the Dec. 8 meeting were announced. The meeting will be held at 6 p.m. in the Mahan Building on the Fayette County Fairgrounds and entertainment will be provided. The board's new officers will also be installed during the meeting.

William Cupp, manager of the new Buckeye Savings Association office in Washington C.H., was the guest speaker at the meeting. Cupp spoke to the realtors on variable interest rate loans.

CHARLES MUSTINE

Also during the meeting, Tom Mark reported on the progress of an essay and poster contest being sponsored by the county board of realtors for students in the Washington C.H. and Miami Trace school districts.

Man claims allergy to prison

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Thirty-year-old Thomas Skidmore of Clinton may serve a matter of days in a state penal institution after he was convicted of deceptive sales. He's allergic to prison.

"Please don't put me in prison," Skidmore said after he was sentenced to 1 to 5 years for theft by deception in selling doctored scrap tires as new or serviceable used ones.

Skidmore's psychologist says the man is allergic to being imprisoned. Once before, the man fainted while he was being admitted to the county jail and instead was sent to a hospital.

Judge L.A. Lombardi of Summit County Common Pleas Court rejected Skidmore's plea, imposing a term in the Chillicothe Correctional Institute.

Then, Skidmore's lawyer moved for shock probation—when a person is committed to jail for a short time, then recalled by the court and placed on regular probation.

First, the judge agreed. Then, he changed his mind. The law requires the convict go to jail—even for a short time.

"The moment he walks through the door (at the prison) he is eligible," the judge said, indicating he would allow the probation.

After being sentenced, Skidmore slumped to the floor and members of his family rushed forward, yelling for an ambulance.

Prosecutor Stephan Gabalac, who opposed probation, was unmoved. "He's a con man," Gabalac told the judge before sentencing.

Fighting continues in Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Palestinians in the Tal Zaatar refugee camp in eastern Beirut lowered the muzzles of their Soviet anti-aircraft guns and shelled the Christian enclave of Ashrafiya during the night, police reported.

It was the second time in Lebanon's eight-month-old civil war that the guerrillas have tipped down their big guns and turned them on Christian areas of Beirut. Both times they claimed it was to silence mortar and rocket fire against their huts.

Fighting also raged on the edge of the financial district, in the eastern residential neighborhoods and in the villages of Kfar Shima and Lailaki, south of the city, police said.

About 20 persons were reported killed and 37 were wounded during the night, they added. A dozen persons were kidnapped, but some were returned in trades arranged by Premier Rashid Karami's cease-fire committee.

Another agreement reached in night-long negotiations provided for gradually thinning out the warring militias in downtown Beirut and more talks on Wednesday to thin them out in the suburbs.

Representatives of the Palestinian guerrillas, leftist Moslem militias and right-wing Christians pledged to remain in nonstop meetings at the government headquarters to carry out the accord and prevent flareups.

The national radio reported a scaling down of fighting in the late morning. But the pattern of the Beirut street has usually been calm mornings, growing tension in the afternoons and raging battles during the night.

The Moslem premier accused the two leading Christians in the government, President Suleiman Franjeh and Interior Minister Camille Chamoun, of allowing the street war to continue.

Chamoun's National Liberal party maintains a 3,000-man private army, allied with the 6,000-man militia of the rightwing Christian Phalange party. Moslems charge Franjeh is tacitly supporting the Christians' battle against leftist Moslem forces, who are backed by Palestinian guerrillas.

OFBF to honor two pioneers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation will honor two of its pioneers Dec. 2 at the annual meeting, federation President Wallace Hirschfeld said Monday.

He said C.H. Ingraham, 83, of Marietta and Mildred McNutt, 74, of Patterson would receive the federation's distinguished service award for their contributions to organized agriculture.

Ingraham helped organize the Washington County Farm Bureau Federation as well as fruit and vegetable exchanges, a rural electric cooperative and a credit association, Hirschfeld said. Mrs. McNutt helped organize the Hardin County Farm Bureau Cooperative.

24 highway deaths seen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Highway safety experts predict 24 persons will die on Ohio roads during the Thanksgiving holiday weekend.

The period for the holiday begins at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ends Sunday at midnight.

"Department statistics show 24 persons could become traffic fatalities during the 4½-day weekend," said Donald Cook, highway safety director. "I say it's up to Ohio drivers to save those lives."

Thirteen persons died in traffic accidents during the holiday last year. In a comparable period in 1973, 27 traffic deaths were recorded.

"We can make this year's Thanksgiving weekend a deathfree weekend if every Ohio motorist practices safe, positive driving," he said.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Last week, when Ronald Reagan announced his presidential candidacy, he had to quit his job as a conservative commentator on a nationally-syndicated radio show called "Viewpoint."
Otherwise, stations airing his daily five-minute program would have to provide air time sought by other presidential candidates under the Federal Communications Commission equal-time rule.
But Harry O'Connor, whose Los Angeles company syndicates "Viewpoint," says the program is continuing on the air with guest commentators until a permanent replacement for Reagan is chosen.
He said this week and the next the speakers will be the former California governor's daughter, Maurine, TV star Art Linkletter, and retired Navy Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher, ex-skipper of the spy ship Pueblo.
Starting Dec. 8, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., whom ABC-TV has hired to comment on the Democratic presidential convention next year, will be the "Viewpoint" commentator for three weeks, he added. O'Connor, who called the program a forum for the conservative point of view, said Reagan began it on Jan. 20 this year.
He said the show evolved from discussions he'd had with actor Effram Zimbalist Jr., who also does a radio show for him, about the need for a daily radio program of conservative commentary.
O'Connor said he felt there should be something to counterbalance what he considers "the strong liberal viewpoints that we're getting not only from commentators but also from the networks."

He said while mulling over possible commentators for the show, Zimbalist said Reagan was a friend of his and might be ideal for the program. The actor called Reagan and found him "keenly interested" in doing the show when his term as governor expired, he said.
O'Connor said the program now is carried by stations he has under contract in more than 300 cities, and that since Oct. 20 the Mutual Broadcasting System has aired it in other cities.
He said when it appeared Reagan would seek the Republican presidential nomination, there were reports — all erroneous — that former President Nixon might replace Reagan on "Viewpoint."
O'Connor said he'd met with Nixon last September at the latter's home in San Clemente, Calif., and that the former president told him "he very much admired what Reagan had been able to accomplish on a daily five-minute radio show."
"And he felt radio was the strongest medium for him,"
Nixon, who resigned from office last year after the Watergate scandal, now is writing a book about his years in office and preparing for a series of TV interviews with talk show star David Frost.
O'Connor said he didn't directly ask Nixon if he'd like to do a radio commentary program some day. But when Nixon expressed interest in that possibility, O'Connor said, "I responded, 'I would like very much to work with you if you decide you'd like to do something like that.'"
"We were just rapping about what might happen some day, that's all."

Steve Ross named to Shrine all-stars

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Former Washington C.H. grid standout Steve Ross has been named to the lineup of Ohio all-star players for the 4th annual All-Ohio Shrine Bowl.

Ross, who played quarterback for the Blue Lions, is listed on the West squad as a halfback. He has been running at that position for Ashland College.

The senior was the second leading rusher for Ashland grid team this fall.

The annual contest will be played Dec. 6 at Ohio Stadium to raise money for the Shrine hospital program, the Cincinnati Burns Institute.

Players named to the East squad, which has been victorious in each previous match, include Harry Bonner, fullback, Oberlin; Mike Brown, line-backer, Central State; Don Calloway, safety, Youngstown State; Jim Gerard, wide receiver, Wooster; Ron Gorman, back, Otterbein; Sam Crumpton, end, Baldwin-Wallace, and Dave Garden, back, Youngstown.

Also, Chuck Hall, tackle, Baldwin-Wallace; Jeff Heacock, back, Muskingum; Willie Hill, back, Central State; Jeff Huffman, guard, Muskingum; John Kosko, tackle, Case Western Reserve; Jim Kuhnner, line-backer, Baldwin-Wallace; Mark Leonard, tight end, Kenyon; Mark McEvoy, center, Marietta; Steve Thomas, quarterback, Central State; DonRaw, end, Hiram; Howard Ward, tackle, Mount Union, and Dave Wolfe, end, John Carroll.

Coaching the East squad will be Jerry Schweickert, John Carroll, with assistance from William Hess, Ohio; James McKinley, Central State, and Lee Tressel, Baldwin-Wallace.

The West squad will be composed of Chuck Austin, linebacker, Akron; Jay Bonds, back, Cincinnati; Tim Camp-ana, back, Ohio Wesleyan; Jim

STEVE ROSS

Chiampo, center, Ashland; Paul Dorando, guard, Akron, and Jerry Draga, safety, Ashland.

Also, Mark Fowler, end, Akron; Jeff Goldsmith, end, Ohio Northern; Larry Heitfeld, receiver, Wilmington; Paul Hunter, tackle, Cincinnati; Eddie Jones, tackle, Cincinnati; Kevin Kirk, flanker, Dayton; Tim Lee, tackle, Defiance; Steve Mohr, tackle, Denison; Mark Newburg, guard, Findlay; Al Rodd, fullback, Bluffton; Steve Ross, halfback, Ashland; Greg Schwarber, kicker, Dayton; Dan Shirley, tackle, Capital; Brett Smith, tackle, Heidelberg; Ted Thomas, center, Dayton; Pete Vinocur, end, Ohio Northern, and Tom Wilhelm, tailback, Akron.

The West will be coached by Dick Crum of Miami with assistant coaches of Jack Murphy, Toledo; Dave Maurer, Wittenberg, and Ken Wable, Mount Union.

League cage action opens with full slate of games

The matchups will be different tonight and the scores will be for real as all eight South Central Ohio League basketball teams pair up in a serious version of Friday's league preview.

Five league teams will be getting their first taste of regular season action while three squads; Miami Trace, Madison Plains and Greenfield McClain; will play in their second contests of the year.

McClain is the only team with a win under its belt taking a 53-41 decision over Paint Valley Saturday night. The Tigers will host Hillsboro tonight.

Trace and Madison Plains both lost its season openers over the weekend. The Panthers fell to the Jets of Northeastern, 64-61, and Adena nipped the league's newest member, 58-53.

Miami Trace will travel to Wilmington tonight in one of the four key league matches. Head Coach John Woolums will have to contend with the Hurricane's height and experience which is the same combination that gave his Panthers fits Saturday night.

Both teams had miserable season's last year, but league coaches have tabbed the Hurricanes and Panthers as title contenders this campaign.

Madison Plains will entertain Washington C.H. in the season opener for the Blue Lions. Court House is tabbed as a SCOL favorite and the Golden Eagles from the Plains will be looking to avenge last season's overtime loss to the Lions.

Plains jumped to a 22-14 first quarter lead Saturday against Adena, but it was downhill the rest of the way for coach Steve Stewart's inexperienced five. Four Eagles hit in double figures in the opening loss. Rick Timmons, a 6-1, spot starter a year ago, led the attack with 14 points while Jim Wilson hit for 13 and 6-5, center Gary Self added 14.

The defending league champs from Circleville will host Unioto in the opening season contest for both schools.

Circleville under new coach Jim Bailey looked very impressive Friday night in the league preview using a stiff man-to-man press to hold McClain to just 14 points in 16 minutes.

Unioto had a tough time with Madison Plains in the preview, but new coach Dave Warne has a lot of height to throw against the tough Tigers.

Both Fayette County schools will field experienced lineups when they hit the road tonight. Miami Trace will be looking for some consistency as three of its five starters combined for only 11 points Saturday night. The Panthers are also having trouble with rebounding as the two Trace postmen used in the season opener grabbed less than ten caroms between them.

College cage season gets under way

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Those old smoothies from UCLA and several pretenders to the throne open the annual college basketball show this week. "New Faces of 1975-76" has all the hoopla and could have all the magic of a brilliant season.

The curtain opens with a big act as the defending champions from Los Angeles meet, critically-acclaimed Indiana in a game that could be a preview of the NCAA championship game. Indiana and UCLA are ranked 1-2 in the country and they meet Saturday night in St. Louis.

Minus Coach John Wooden, who retired after last year's championship season, and two of the starters from that titewinning club, the Bruins are as bullish as ever. They've got Richard Washington, one of the best centers in the country, and guard Marques Johnson among a basketful of talent.

"I suppose they're going to jump all over me when I lose two games," says Gene Bartow, an easy-going Missourian who is the Bruins' new coach.

He is, of course, referring to Wooden's nearly impeccable record at UCLA. From 1963 until 1975, Wooden's great teams only lost 22 times, capturing 10 national titles. And the Bruins don't figure to do too much losing this year, despite the presence of a strong Southern Cal team and other imposing squads in the Pac-8.

At Indiana, the bullies of the Big 10 present a big problem for their colleagues, as well as other teams around the nation. Scott May and Quinn Buckner take charge of a monster club that had the longest winning streak in basketball last season — 31 games.

The Hoosiers' only loss came by two points in the NCAA regional playoffs and prevented them from competing in the championship round at San Diego.

Along with the star-studded casts of UCLA and Indiana, teams such as Kentucky, Oregon, San Francisco, Louisville, North Carolina, Maryland, Arizona, Marquette, Notre Dame and Alabama must rate top billing this season.

Kentucky, beaten by UCLA in last year's heart-stopping finale, is the preseason favorite in the Southeastern Conference although the Wildcats must replace four seniors. Coach Joe Hall, though, still has plenty of thoroughbreds — including Rick Robey and Mike Phillips.

The Wildcats will probably be challenged hard in their own conference by Tennessee and Alabama.

Oregon and Southern Cal pose threats to UCLA's long-term domination of the Pac-8. The Ducks, an NIT team last year, boast guard Ronnie Lee and imposing height at all positions. The Trojans have lost some top players, most notably guard Gus Williams, but still have top frontcourt talent.

San Francisco is a team to watch not only this year but for a few years to come. Coach Bob Gallard picked off three of the nation's top high school players. Winfred Boynes, James Hardy and Bill Cartwright are considered among the top freshmen in the country and will make the Dons a popular choice to win the West Coast Athletic Conference.

Louisville, one of the four NCAA finalists last year, has joined a new conference, the Metro-Six. The Cardinals, always tough under Denny Crum while playing in the Missouri Valley Conference, have won 98 of their last 120 games. And they figure to keep doing that this year.

North Carolina and Maryland look like the glamour teams in the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Tar Heels return Mitch Kupchak and Phil Ford from a team that carved out a 23-8 record against stiff opposition. At Maryland, Lefty Driesell is blessed with one of the best backcourts in the country — a three-guard combination of John Lucas, Maurice Howard and Brad Davis.

Arizona Coach Fred Snowden has two of the top forwards in the country in Bob Elliott and Al Fleming and a strong backcourt leader in Herm Harris. The club figures to be the favorite in the Western Athletic Conference.

Bo Ellis and three other starters from last year's 23-4 squad at Marquette are returning this year and that means that the Warriors will be hard to manage and almost impossible to beat. It makes Al McGuire's club one of the top independents in the country.

And Notre Dame fits in that same group. The most notable of the Fighting Irish is forward Adrian Dantley, who opted for college ball after seriously considering turning pro on a hardship case.

Rutgers will challenge Syracuse this year for supremacy in the East. The Scarlet Knights are led by Phil Sellers, one of the top forwards in the country, and Syracuse returns Chris Sease, who helped lead the Orangemen to the NCAA East Regional title.

Syracuse lost Rudy Hackett and a few other players from its cinderella team last season, but Roy Danforth, one of the most capable coaches in the business, has his teams used to championship competition — either in the NCAA or NIT.

Princeton, last year's NIT champs, Providence, Penn, LaSalle and Boston College are among the other heavyweights in the East.

Among the other top teams in the country are New Mexico, which has recruited a couple of the best junior college players around in Larry Gray and George Berry; Nevada-Las Vegas, sparked by Lewis Brown, Eddie Owens and Jackie Robinson; Nevada-Reno, with superb shot-blocker Edgar Jones, and Houston, led by Otis Birdsong and David Marrs.

Other teams to watch this year: Arizona State, Pepperdine, New Mexico State, Long Beach State, North Carolina, Tennessee, Purdue, Stetson, Utah and Hawaii.

Bucks keep top grid poll spot

By The Associated Press

Ohio State, which slipped past Michigan on a wing and a prayer 21-14 Saturday, was a near unanimous choice as the nation's top-ranked college football team in this week's Associated Press poll.

The Buckeyes, 11-0, were thoroughly handled by the Wolverines throughout most of Saturday's game and trailed 14-7 late in the fourth quarter. But quarterback Cornelius Greene got a hot hand and passed Ohio State into position for the tying TD and then safety Ray Griffin intercepted a pass to set up the winning score.

All of which impressed the AP's national panel of sports writers and broadcasters enough to give the Buckeyes 56 of 59 first-place votes and a total 1,168 points.

Ohio State can clinch the national championship with a victory in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day against the Pacific-8 Conference winner — either California or UCLA.

Texas A&M, idle last week, picked up one first-place vote and 1,010 points in moving up one spot to second. The Aggies, 9-0, face Texas Friday.

Oklahoma, 10-1 and the defending national champs, jumped from seventh to third with two first-place votes and 904 points after stunning previously-undefeated Nebraska 35-10. Alabama, 9-1, moved up from fifth to fourth with 707 points after taking the week off.

Texas, 9-1, moved up one spot to fifth with 682 points.

Michigan, 8-1-2 after bowing to Ohio State, dropped from fourth to sixth; Nebraska, 10-1, plummeted from second to seventh after losing to Oklahoma; Arizona State, 10-0, remained eighth after an idle Saturday; Colorado, 9-2, stayed ninth after whipping Kansas State 35-7; and Penn State, 9-2, held the No. 10 position after edging Pitt 7-6.

California, 8-3, headed up the second ten, followed by No. 12 Arizona, 9-1; No. 13 Florida, 8-2; No. 14 UCLA, 7-2-1; No. 15 Georgia, 8-2; No. 16 Miami of Ohio, 10-1; No. 17 Maryland, 8-2-1; No. 18 Kansas, 7-4; No. 19 Arkansas, 8-2; and No. 20 San Jose State, 9-1. It was San Jose State's first appearance ever in the Top Twenty.

Here are the Top Twenty teams in The Associated Press college football poll, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points. Points based on 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1:

1.Ohio St.	(56)	11-0-0	1,168

Steelers hammer Houston, 32-9

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers, sworn to "hold the rope," came unraveled on nationwide television Monday night under the aerial assault of pressure-proof Terry Bradshaw and Pittsburgh's Steel Curtain defense.

Bradshaw flawlessly threaded 13 of 16 passes through the porous Houston Oilers defense to lift the Steelers to a 32-9 victory and give Pittsburgh a one-game lead over Cincinnati in the American Football Conference's Central Division chase.

Coach Chuck Noll was so impressed with his Steelers' handiwork that he pronounced them playoff ready. "Our offense is where it was at the end of last season, moving the ball well and taking the pressure off the defense," Noll said after Bradshaw whipped the Steelers to two touchdowns in a 1:28 span of the second quarter for a commanding 15-3 halftime lead.

"When you get the protection and the blocking from the offensive line that we did tonight, you're bound to move the ball," Noll said.

Despite the motto of "hold the rope" and 49,947 fans cheering them on, the Oilers wilted under the pinpoint passing of Bradshaw and the undeniable runs of Franco Harris, who gained 149 yards and scored two touchdowns.

The Oilers, who dropped to a 7-3 record and third place in the AFC's Central Division, took a 3-2 lead in the second quarter on a 27-yard field goal by Skip Butler but Bradshaw had the Steelers ahead 15-3 by the half with a pair of lightning-quick touchdowns in the second quarter.

The Steelers got a safety in the first quarter when Houston quarterback Dan Pastorini was tackled in the end zone after losing the ball from a shotgun formation.

Bradshaw keyed the first of two touchdown runs by Harris with passes of 18 and 10 yards to Lynn Swann in the second quarter. Harris, the first runner to gain 100 yards against Houston's defense this season, bulled four yards for a touchdown with 2:23 to go in the half for a 9-3 Steeler lead.

pound two-way tackle, was the top lineman in Class A district play.

The Class A Southwestern Coach of the Year was 47-yearold John "Jake" Jeffrey, who led Ridgeway Ridgemont to a 9-0-1 season. Ridgemont hasn't lost in its last 19 games.

Golf, Volleyball, grid teams honored

Over 300 student-athletes, parents and fans packed the Washington Senior High School cafeteria Monday night for the annual fall sports banquet which saw the school's golf and girls' volleyball program honored along with the Blue Lion grid teams.

Letters, certificates of participation and special trophies were awarded to nearly 100 athletes at the banquet.

Head Football coach Maurice Pfeifer and assistants Jon Creamer and Dale Lynch introduced the letter winners from the 1975 Blue Lion grid team which finished 7-3 on the year.

Coach Pfeifer also read from the newest edition of the "Blue Lion Football Year Book" which was dedicated to the teams No. 1 fan, Mrs. Helen Ernest, who has been attending Court House football games for the past 60 years.

Seven special grid awards were presented at the banquet and three of those dealt with the Blue Lions weight program.

Trophies were given to Mark Fisher, Jeff Elliott and David Hollar, who excelled in one of the three weight training sessions.

Hollar was also awarded the most improved player trophy and Dewey Foster racked up 340 "defensive points" during the season to win that award.

Seniors Randy Sparkman and Brian Haines were awarded the most consistent player trophies as voted by their Blue Lion teammates. Haines won the defensive award and Sparkman took offensive honors.

Sparkman, Foster, Richard Haithcock, Tim O'Flynn and Joe Cox received their third-year awards as

Three statisticians, two managers and the team trainer were among the 21 recipients of first-year letters. They include Mark Heiny, Bret Shaw, Ted Mercer, Scott Johnson, Mark Fisher, Eddie DeWees, Jim Hardy, Bob Shaw, Tom Dean, David Leisure, Terry Wilson, Bob Southward, Walter Ingram, Jim Knisley, Loree Johnson, Kim Martin, Anne Crocker, Bret Wilson, Randy Aills, Dee Foster, and Jeff Elliott.

Members of both the freshmen and reserve teams were given numerals and awards for their participation in the school's grid program.

For the first time golf and volleyball team members were honored at the fall banquet.

Golf coach Rick Crooks handed out five letters. Gary Fisher and Greg Tillett were both first-year award winners and Tillett received the most improved player trophy.

Second-year award winners were Scott Lewis and John Moore while senior Scott Sefton received a third-year award. Moore and Sefton each received special trophies for their play this season.

Volleyball coach Cynthia Carper passed out letters to her second-place league team members including the only two-year award winner, Teresa Pursell.

Other letter winners were Deb Wheat, Becky Tolle, Mindy Smith, Gina Upthegrove, Vicki Straley, Becky Wheat, Joyce Warner, Rene Johns, Terry Welch, Sharon Redden and Mildred Dawes along with statisticians Ann Fenton, Susan Stolsenburg and Pam Crosswhite.

Tolle was awarded the most improved player trophy while Straley won the most points trophy and Redden accepted the most valuable player award.

Gamecocks set to face Miami-Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The University of South Carolina will face Miami's MidAmerican Conference champions in the Tangerine Bowl football game Saturday, Dec. 20.

The Gamecocks, with a 7-4-0 record, accepted a bid Monday to meet the 10-1-0 Redskins in the postseason contest at Orlando, Fla.

Meanwhile, Wittenberg University launched drills in preparation for its Division III national semifinal game with visiting Millsaps Saturday.

The Tigers, who whipped Indiana Central 17-13 last week for a 10-1-0 mark, are bidding for their second national Division III title in the last three seasons.

Millsaps, located at Jackson, Miss., defeated Colorado College 28-21 in a quarterfinal playoff game last week and will carry a 9-1-0 record against Wittenberg.

Top-ranked Ohio State's players, busy concentrating on final exams this week, will not know their Rose Bowl opponent until Friday night.

UCLA needs a victory over Southern California Friday night to wrap up the Rose Bowl berth as the Pac-8 representative. If the Bruins lose, California would go to the New Year's Day classic at Pasadena, Calif.

Bob Scheffing, general manager of the New York Mets, formerly managed the Detroit Tigers in the American League.

McDonald and Fred Jones (standing) David Ginn, Pat Dunn, Kelly Graham, Steve Pritchett, Larry Brickles, Todd Terrell and coach Rick Crooks.

Watching Swan Pair Keeps Schulberg Close To Home

By PHIL THOMAS
AP Books Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Writer Budd Schulberg used to move around a lot, living his life in many places, but now he thinks he's finally settled down — thanks to a pair of swans.

About five years ago, Schulberg — who had spent his days in such places as New York City, Vermont, Mexico, Europe, Pennsylvania, Florida, New Jersey, Los Angeles — and his wife, actress Geraldine Brooks, left the West Coast and went to New York's Long Island.

"The swans happened to us," Schulberg says with a smile. "We found a house on an inlet and saw the swans swimming about out there on the water. It's still a very rural area with lots of wild life and birds even though it's near Westhampton. We saw the swans, they attracted us, and we bought. We love our place on the inlet, and we like the swans very much. We like to hear them tapping on our windows."

It was a while, however, before the Schulbergs and the swans got friendly enough for the big birds to get that close to the house, as Schulberg reveals in his latest book, "Swan Watch." Miss Brooks took the photographs which illustrate her husband's text.

"I'd always been interested in birds," says the 61-year-old Schulberg, an easy-talking man with heavy dark brows that are in sharp contrast to his white hair and beard. "I raised pigeons as a kid and I know a lot about them. And my interest in birds shows in movies I wrote such as 'On The Waterfront' and 'Across The Everglades' as well as in my novel 'Sanctuary V,' although it's not a prominent feature."

Soon after moving into the house, Schulberg began keeping a log of the doings of the swans, whom he and his wife dubbed Loh and Grin, although "I didn't know I would eventually do a book about them."

He also set about befriending the swans, although warned they had nasty tempers, and eventually succeeded, so much so that "now I can actually stroke the male's back, and when I fill his food bowl I can say 'Wait' and he'll stand back and wait until I'm finished in-

Silicone Still Useful Substance

I read that silicone is extremely dangerous when used for enlargement of the breasts. Yet a friend of mine recently had this done for some condition of the face. Can this be harmful or dangerous?

Miss G. E., Canada

Dear Miss E.:

It is true that liquid silicone has been discarded for use in the enlargement of the breasts.

The initial enthusiasm for this material has shifted until, at the present time, it is considered unsafe, and responsible for many adverse reactions. Consequently, it is used in breast surgery now only when it is encapsulated in a protective gel.

Nevertheless, liquid silicone is still considered a highly useful substance in smoothing out small sunken scars and wrinkles on the face.

Can curvature of the back be caused by poor posture during childhood?

Mrs. M. M., Nev.

Dear Mrs. M.:

Severe curvature of the spine is known as "scoliosis." Poor posture cannot be responsible for this condition. It is more likely that some birth defect or injury may be the cause.

There are two associated conditions. One, "kyphosis," is a tendency towards round shoulders. This, perhaps, may be caused by poor posture. Another is "lordosis," or a swayback condition of the spinal column.

The early use of corrective exercise, casts and surgery, after thorough investigation, can halt the progress of these spinal disorders.

Are there specialists who devote all their time to the treatment of cancers?

Mr. E. K., Mont.

Dear Mr. K.:

There are no so-called "cancer specialists." All surgeons, for example, operate on cancers in their own special fields.

There are some physicians who specialize in the use of chemotherapeutic drugs for cancer.

There are also some hospitals specially identified with the medical and surgical treatment of cancers. Special equipment and nursing facilities are available in these institutions.

DR. LESTER COLEMAN has prepared a special booklet entitled "Alcoholism—A Family Disease." It probes this grave problem and offers helpful advice. For your copy, send 25 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lester L. Coleman, M.D., (Alcoholism booklet), P.O. Box 378, Grand Central Station, New York City 10017. Please mention the booklet by title.

4 ♠	Pass	4 ♦	Pass

Opening lead — nine of hearts.

Let's assume you're in six clubs and West leads a heart to East's ace. East returns the queen of hearts, which you win with the king. How would you proceed with the play?

It is obvious that the only other possible loser is a diamond. It is also clear that you can escape this loser by finessing successfully against the queen. The big problem is which way to finesse, since you can do so in either direction.

There are two schools of thought in such a situation. One is that East, having bid two hearts, is more likely to have the queen; the other is that West probably has the greater diamond length (since East is long in hearts) and is therefore more likely to have the queen.

But both of these are rules of thumb only, and not much reliance should be placed on them without seeking further enlightenment about how the East-West cards are divided.

In line with this, you play a spade to the ace, ruff a spade high, enter dummy with a trump and ruff another spade high. You next lead another trump to dummy and ruff North's last spade.

By now you have all the information necessary for a successful diamond finesse. The East-West hands are an open book and you can bet your old family homestead on the right way to finesse. The four rounds of spades you played settled the issue.

East has shown up with four spades, three clubs and must have had at least five hearts for his overcall. He therefore can't have more than one diamond.

Accordingly, after playing a third round of trumps, you cash the ace of diamonds and take a diamond finesse through West with complete assurance that it will win.

In Focus

by Charlie Pensyl

A few weeks ago I heard a speaker extolling the virtues of "our Democracy."

"Democracy." We were told that we should be proud of our "Democratic form of government." Man, now this hurts a guy who has done his homework and is familiar with the Declaration of Independence and our Constitution.

Did you know that the word "Democracy" is not used once in the Declaration, or in the Constitution of the United States, or in any of the Constitutions of the 50 states? Our founding fathers knew well the difference between a Democracy and a Republic, like when Hamilton said: "We are a Republican Government."

Real liberty is never found in despotism or in the extremes of Democracy." And Samuel Adams warned: "Remember, Democracy never lasts long. It soon wastes, exhausts and murders itself! There never was a democracy that did not commit suicide."

James Madison, one of the boys who drew up our wonderful Constitution, wrote as follows: "...democracies have ever been spectacles of turbulence and contention; have even been found incompatible with personal security, or the rights of property; and have in general been as short in their lives as they have been violent in their deaths."

It was twenty-some years ago that I made the mistake of referring to "our Democracy" to a brilliant young Fayette County Prosecuting Attorney who immediately straightened me out — but good. He pointed out that the word democracy comes from the Greek and means, literally, government by the people — like "mob rule." The word "republic" comes from the Latin, res publica, and means literally "the public affairs." Our founding fathers knew all this stuff and they gave us a Constitutional Republic. They knew that minorities have no rights in a Democracy. Our Republic was something new in the world. You see, those brilliant people who set up our form of government stated that man was granted BY HIS CREATOR certain UNALIENABLE RIGHTS — get that! Rights don't come from government. If government grants a right it can take it away. Our government recognizes the fact that rights come from our Creator. Let me tell you something: Till you get that fact you just can't understand our great heritage. And our 200th anniversary would be a good time to tune in on the beginnings of our great Republic.

Think about it.

At intersection of Washington Ave. and Elm St.

Four hurt in four-vehicle crash

Four persons suffered injuries in a four-vehicle accident at 6:45 p.m. Monday at the intersection of Washington Avenue and Elm Street. Washington C.H. police officers reported a truck driven by Carey M. Taylor, 34, Greenfield, apparently ran a red light at the intersection and struck a car driven by Jack B. Carr, 16, of 4040 U.S. 22, knocking the auto into a truck driven by Eldon L. Wilson, 23, of 1220 Columbus Ave. and a car driven by Karl F. Holbrook, 18, of 4907 Ohio 41-NW, which were waiting for the light to change at the intersection. Car and the two passengers riding with him, Lucinda Carr, 11, of 4040 U.S. 22 and Lisa A. Hudnell, 16, Leesburg, claimed injury from the mishap, along with Wilson, and were taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital. Carr was treated for injury to both hands and both knees. Lucinda Carr was treated for injury to the left leg and head and Lisa Hudnell was treated for nose and knee injuries. The three were released following treatment. Wilson was not treated.

Police officers reported Taylor told them he was taking his brother, James F. Taylor, 28, Greenfield, to the hospital for treatment of a broken ankle when he ran the light. Police charged Taylor with failure to obey a traffic device and noted on the accident report his brother did not have a broken ankle. The Carr auto, the Taylor truck and the Wilson truck all incurred severe damage and the Holbrook auto was moderately damaged.

Police investigated a second accident Monday and the Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported two mishaps in which two drivers were charged with traffic offenses.

A rear-end collision at 3:05 p.m. Monday at the intersection of Washington and Columbus avenues with Court Street involved a semi-truck driven by Billy G. Butler, 29, Tunica, Miss., and a car driven by Margaret J. Biehle, 40, Milford. Police reported the Biehle auto struck the Butler truck and estimated damage as minor.

A car driven by Gregory Domini, 17, of 4999 U.S. 62, struck a car belonging to Nina L. Scabeck, Leesburg at 11:30 p.m. Monday, which was parked on U.S. 62, two-tenths of a mile southwest of the U.S. 35 bypass. The impact of the collision knocked the Scabeck auto into a fence belonging to Arnold C. Shoop, 1559 U.S. 62-SW. Fayette County Sheriff's deputies reported the Scabeck auto was disabled on the roadway with its four-way flashers on, but Domini could not stop in time. He claimed injury from the accident, but was not treated. Deputies charged him with failure to maintain an assured clear distance ahead.

A car driven by Charles Brown, 43, of 2532 Ohio 41, failed to negotiate a right curve on Rowe Ging Road, four-tenths of a mile east of Ohio 41-S, traveled off the left side of the road and struck a fence belonging to Howard G. Wright, 201 Wagner Way. The mishap occurred at 10:45 p.m. Monday and sheriff's deputies cited Brown for failure to drive on the right half of the roadway.

Moynihan remains U.N. ambassador

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Armed with a White House declaration of support, Daniel Patrick Moynihan says he will stay on the job as the chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations and will continue talking back to critics of the United States.

"I have no plans to leave," the 48-year-old Harvard professor said Monday after a 40-minute talk with President Ford in Washington. Their meeting followed reports that Moynihan was on the verge of resigning because he felt he wasn't getting sufficient backing from Washington.

The White House said Moynihan has Ford's complete confidence and both the President and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger want him to continue "speaking out candidly and forcefully on major issues."

"On that basis, I have, of course, agreed" to stay, Moynihan said. Later he told CBS Television:

"The President couldn't have been more emphatic, nor the Secretary (of State). If we are going to be under attack continuously at the U.N.... we are going to defend ourselves and defend ourselves with some enthusiasm ...

"We have not gone around looking for a fight in this place. We have not run from any."

Moynihan added that his performance at the United Nations was guided not only by his own decisions but also by "what the President wanted us to do — and the Secretary."

He said the United States is "under continuous attack" at the United Nations "for those things of which we can be most proud — because we are a democracy and behave as such."

Moynihan's policy has been to strike back vigorously. His targets have included President Idi Amin of Uganda, African nations he classed as despots, other dictatorships among the U.N. members and nations that did not vote against the General Assembly resolution terming Zionism a form of racism.

Moynihan's threat to resign apparently resulted from a speech by Britain's chief U.N. delegate, Ivor Richard, that derided the American ambassador's "confrontation" tactics. Diplomatic sources said Moynihan suspected that the State Department prompted the speech, but both U.S. officials and the British delegation to the United Nations denied this.

By The Associated Press
The snow predicted for Ohio had failed to materialize this morning anywhere but in the northwestern counties. But another winter storm is on the way.

Intermittent light snow covered much of the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley areas at daybreak and was expected to persist today and tonight.

Another low pressure area developing in the Plains was expected to spread snow over Ohio Wednesday.

Highs today were forecast to reach the low 30s northwest to the low 40s southeast, with lows tonight in the 20s or low 30s and highs Wednesday in the upper 20s and 30s.

This morning, Toledo and Findlay each reported about one inch of snow on the ground. Snow in other areas of the state melted as it fell. Readings at daybreak were in the low to mid 30s.

Prayer breakfast draws 66 persons

Thanksgiving decorations and candlelight greeted the 66 young people and teachers attending the teen prayer breakfast at the South Side Church of Christ Tuesday morning.

The Rev. Charles J. Richmond used a visual demonstration to aid each one in giving thanks during the meditation time.

Melanie McArthur and Jowanda Vernon, freshmen at Washington Senior High School, accompanied by Linda Hollingsworth, a senior at Washington Senior High School, led the singing. Carmen Frogale, a teacher at Washington Senior High School, offered prayer.

After breakfast, Jon Creamer, a teacher at Washington Senior High School, spoke on the subject, "What I am Most Thankful For." After enumerating how he was thankful for his parents, country, material things, family, and friends, he said he was most of all thankful for God's greatest gift — Jesus. He then dismissed the group with prayer.

The next teen prayer breakfast will be Tuesday, December 2 at 6:45 a.m. All teens, grades nine through twelve, are welcome.

City manager speaks to Kiwanis members

The guest speaker Monday night at the Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club meeting was city manager George Shapter.

The newly appointed head of administration for the city of Washington C.H. discussed the many aspects of city management in a very humorous presentation.

The theme of the discussion was based on a book by Doug Harmon, "The Joys of Being a City Manager." The position of city manager requires a combination of several areas of expertise, and Shapter pointed out the danger of becoming fixed on one aspect.

With the use of projected transparencies he showed the "budget oriented manager" wearing a green eye-shade, the "systems oriented manager" covered with computer printouts, "the stay in the background manager" who needs a name tag to be recognized, and the "wheeler-dealer" manager who was a former federal aid coordinator or a retired military man.

Each manager, Shapter said, has a different approach to problems than his predecessor, but he must adjust them to the city and people he has come to serve.

The Rev. Richard Ward discussed the meaning of Thanksgiving with club members, and emphasized that while the words "thank you" are important, words alone express nothing. The actions of individuals indicate their true feelings of thankfulness or indifference, he said.

Several guests attended the meeting held in the Terrace Lounge. They included Andrew Anderson, who attended with Dick Maddux, Greg and Gary Armbrust, who attended with their father Norman Armbrust; Key club members Philip Swigert, Dave Ritenour, Steve Waters and Dan LeBeau; as well as members of the Wilmington Kiwanis club, George Schilling, Carl Chenault, Curt
